

Sample Viewing Schedule for 4 Languages

(focusing on two)

The following schedule focuses mostly on the videos and illustrates two viewings of Your Baby Can Learn! per day.

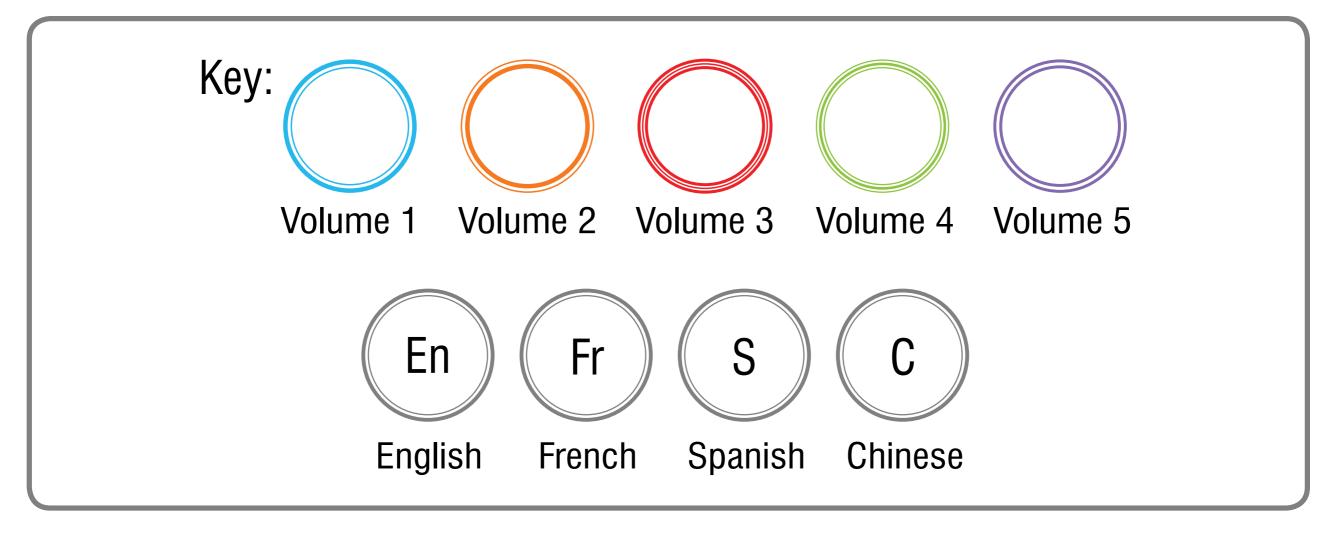

This schedule was designed for someone who wants to introduce a native-English-speaking child to one additional language at a high frequency and to two other languages at a lower frequency. Your goals may vary, so please feel free to adjust this schedule accordingly. While this schedule uses British English, French, Chinese, and Spanish, you may also substitute other Your Baby Can Learn! languages.

We recommend you print this schedule for your reference and cross off days as they occur.

Please use the books and word cards for short periods of time several times a day. You may want to use the book and word cards that go along with the languages and volumes of the videos you're showing that day.

If using a language with multiple versions of each volume available (such as Chinese, American English, or Vietnamese), please alternate the versions you show. If using American English instead of or in addition to British English, please use the Newer version more frequently than the Classic version.

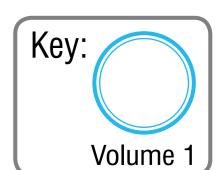

This schedule was designed for native English speakers. If you mostly speak another language on these schedules around your child instead of English, please switch that language with English. For instance if you mostly speak Spanish with your child, then use the Spanish video of the corresponding volume wherever the schedule says English, and use the corresponding English video wherever it says Spanish.
